A^{bout} – Rightness

B^{est Verse} – 2 Corinthians 5:21. You and I want to get life right. Everyone does. Whatever the right life is, we all want it in every decision we make. No one wants things to turn out wrong. We will not be satisfied until we know we have life right. We will struggle with our sense of security and significance until we do. There is no peace without the rightness of life. And this universal search for rightness has an obvious implication: Something is very wrong with our life, and we know it. So, this is The Good News: “God made Him Who had no sin/wrong/error to be sin for us so that we might become the righteousness/rightness of God!” Spread the news to everyone you know—far and wide—He is the Right Life for each and every one of us.

C^{ommitment} – My Rightness, I have no peace, no joy without You because You have made me right with God. Please open the door to my friends and family so that I may share the Good News of Your life and death and Life with them. Give them ears to hear, eyes to see, and hearts to seek You and then I can trust that they will be found by You!
